

SAMPLE CHAPTER OF THE BIG COSMIC JOKE – A POCKET GUIDE TO HUMANITY.

ALL RIGHTS RESERVED

ABOUT THE BIG COSMIC JOKE

This book was first written under the pseudonym Phoenix Stargazer just before Christmas 2012. It was at the time when many were predicting a shift in consciousness. I'd woken up in the middle of the night and had this overwhelming urge to write something, and the words just flowed on the page. At the time I wrote it I really wasn't sure whether people were open enough to "read" between the lines of the message.

Knowing that it might make or break my career as a serious author, I decided to publish it under a pseudonym. There was no spell checking and I put it up anonymously on Kindle. Whilst on Facebook one day I mentioned that this book was available, and within days it was picked up by a group of people. One anonymous group shared it in chapters, and then another man from the other side of the world turned it into an audio book. Within days it had thousands of downloads and shares.

At the time of writing, there was much exposure of government and media corruption. I live in the UK and the Jimmy Saville case had been all over the news, the Conservative, MPs were being exposed for fiddling their expenses and we had just had the Leveson enquiry.

It started to look like many of the things that had been covered up were opening up like a big can of worms both in the UK and abroad. People are starting to educate themselves about GMOs, fracking, corrupt bankers and more. Many people are starting to awaken; but is it too late?

Those of you that have read my previous works and know me personally know that I'm a firm believer in exposing corruption, deceit and lies. As I said in The Phoenix Spirit:

"For anyone who has been in a relationship with a personality-disordered person, it can take many years before the penny finally drops and the victim "gets it", that it wasn't actually their fault. Victims may also have to accept that unless they get good therapy or have a network of friends who have been on the receiving end of understanding pathological abuse; it really is a case of the monkey syndrome. Unless someone has experienced directly having shit dumped on their doorstep, no one is really interested. People may notice there's a certain smell around and that something is wrong, but nine times out of ten they don't want to know and will walk away. When the shit lands directly on their own front door, and they, too, become a victim, they can no longer remain in denial. It's far easier to hold one's nose, cover your eyes and pretend it's not there but not easy when it's landed right on your doorstep and you've trodden in it".

"We also need to start taking responsibility for our own part in this psychopathic world we live in, a world where we may have colluded or lived in denial, where Wall Street bankers and the like have robbed millions of people of their hard-earned cash and homes, and where corruption thrives in the system like a virus".

We can keep on blaming everything on society but we are society.

As I republish this book on the evening before the US decides what to do in Syria. Whatever decision the government in the US make in my humble opinion I believe it's our responsibility as citizens of this earth to do the best we can but that does NOT mean having Stockholm Syndrome or being co-dependent enablers of the psychopathic elite. By not exposing the truth or not protecting those that are more vulnerable, we are all part of the problem and complicit. We become nothing more than psychopathic enablers! Furthermore, I ask that everyone who has a conscience to do their bit and start creating a ripple effect that will affect generations to come. Because if we don't, those in power will have the upper hand and the Cosmic Joke will be on us, not them. The fallout of not saying "no" to the ripple effect "they" create is most likely to have the same devastating effects on humanity as a cataclysmic tidal wave that will affect our children for generations to come.

You have been warned.